Without the Saviour's righteousness, we are doomed!

Those who say the future is dark are right, and it's only going to get worse. Scripture reveals that before the Saviour returns, the world will be invaded. Not by aliens, but by something far worse: demons pretending to be aliens.

THE VISIONS SHOWN JOHN THE REVELATOR were too horrific to easily describe. He saw what looked like locusts arise out of the bottomless pit. These creatures had the faces of men, the hair of women, and the sharp teeth of lions. Their tails could sting like a scorpion and caused such severe pain, combined with paralysis, that John said men wanted to die but could not.

Too many Christians have ignored the prophecies of Revelation simply because they did not understand them. However, the events described are very real.

What is more, this demonic "alien" invasion occurs after the world's food supply has been devastated when a falling meteor destroys a third of the world's plants; after another meteor destroys a third of all ocean life, as well as a third of the ocean-going ships (thus, disrupting world commerce and shipping); and after a third meteor strike pollutes a third of the world's fresh water sources!

One World Leader

DURING THIS PERIOD of pandemonium, when the world is disintegrating into madness and anarchy, world leaders and religious leaders will look for one man to unite them all, one man to represent mankind in negotiating peace with the demons-believed-to-be-aliens. They will find the perfect representative in the Pope. He is a moral leader recognized and respected across all religious boundaries, so he is the perfect agent to be earth's envoy in negotiations with the "aliens."

Revelation reveals that the pope will be successful at negotiating a peace treaty, bringing the invasion to an end precisely on the 150th day after the invasion began, confirming the time foretold in the prophecy. This will cement the pope's position as a leader to whom everyone looks for guidance. With the power of his new position, the Pope will not hesitate to enforce Sunday as a worldwide day of worship.

The Roman Catholic Church has long claimed its sign of authority is the fact that they are responsible for establishing Sunday as a day of worship, an act emulated by the majority of Christendom. The pope will claim that unification on a universal day of worship is necessary for peace as the citizens of earth unite to restore and rebuild what was destroyed.

The problem is, neither Saturday nor Sunday is the Creator's true day of worship. That can only be calculated by using the luni-solar calendar established at Creation. However, the threat of another alien invasion will be sufficient to convince the masses to conform.

Aliens & Nanobots

AFTER THE INVASION of demons, comes another horror: John was shown an army of horsemen two hundred million strong. The "horses" John saw belched out fire, smoke and brimstone that wiped out one third of human life on earth.

John's ability to describe was necessarily limited to what he knew and understood in the first century C.E. Whether this army is another wave of demons, or nanobots that can swarm, then disperse, leaving death and utter destruction in their wake, it is impossible to know at this time. But what we can know is that the world has never seen anything like this before nor will it ever again.

As the problems continue, anyone who stands for the truth, in opposition to manmade laws, will be held responsible. Laws, with increasingly harsh penalties for breaking them, will be imposed. Finally, all who refuse to worship on Sunday will be forbidden to buy or sell.

Everyone is vulnerable to the future laid out in the Bible. We are not going to win against demonic hordes. You are not going to win. There is no way to win against these demonic forces. There are no guns, no nuclear warheads, no army, or air force, no earthly government powerful enough to protect you against the coming crisis.

How To Survive

THE ONLY PROTECTION will be the blood of the Saviour. His blood will cover all who surrender their wills to the Father. They alone will receive the Father's seal. They alone will escape the days of darkness that are coming upon the world.

When a person is sealed, the Saviour's own righteousness covers the repentant believer. Every sinful act, every angry word, every lustful thought will be covered by His purity. Being sealed and covered with the Saviour's righteousness means that you have His eternal protection. Then, it does not matter if you die or are martyred because He will raise you again when He comes. His righteousness is our only hope! Without it, all are doomed.

Revelation 18:4 declares: "Come out of her, My people!" This is a command, not an invitation. All churches today cling to error and tradition. There is no light to be had in any of them. All of them are fallen and all falsely prophesy of peace and safety.

Everyone is responsible for studying for him- or herself. Don't run to outside authorities. Study the Scriptures for yourself. Learn the truth for yourself. The Father Himself will instruct you.

Everyone has preconceived ideas, plans, dreams, and wishes for the future. For most people, no matter how dark their present is, they hope for a better tomorrow. It is natural to want to reject anything that contradicts your desired future. But denying reality does not change what is, in fact, reality. And the truth is, the world is ending.

Things are not going to get better. They are only going to get worse. A lot worse.

The end is coming soon. Not in decades, but in a few short years, condensed by chaos. The only people who will escape will be those who have made a conscious decision to surrender their wills to the Creator and follow truth regardless of the cost.
